Highway Work To Get Underway

$21 Million in Road Contracts Let to Officially End Freeze

Highway construction in Madison and St. Clair counties—at a standstill for the past two years because of a government freeze on federal highway fund allocations—will resume in the bi-county area this week under $21 million worth of road contracts awarded Friday.

The contract awards by the Illinois Division of Highways marked the official end of the two-year freeze which tied up all highway construction work in which any part was financed by federal monies. The freeze was ordered July 1, 1968. The freeze tied up almost $100 million in highway work in the two counties.

Final action that removed the freeze order was taken Friday with the signing of contracts for training minority workers for jobs on highway projects. Under those agreements, training programs were scheduled to begin today for 120 Negro workers at State Community College in East St. Louis. Applicants for the program were screened during the weekend in Madison, East St. Louis and Alton by the Metro-East Labor Council which represents minority workers.

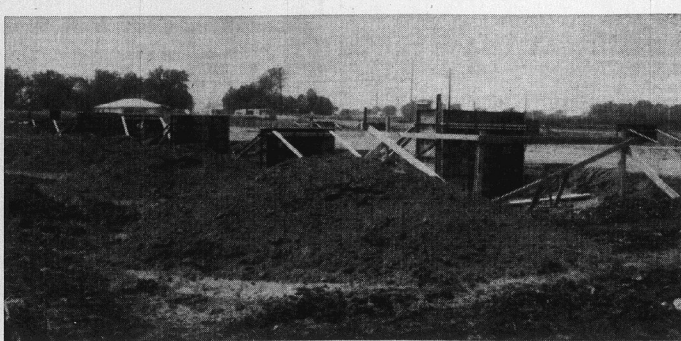

To Train 300
Edward L. Welch, spokesman for the council, said an additional 300 trainees will be selected within the next few weeks. The current program calls for training of 300 workers by instructors provided by four area craft unions.

The training program was arranged under a plan advanced early this year by Illinois Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie to remove the basic reasons given by federal authorities for imposition of the freeze order—a shortage of minority workers on highway construction jobs.

The plans were approved by federal authorities, but at first met later went along with the program following some changes in the original draft. The freeze was lifted last June 3, but the Metro-East Labor Council objected to resumption of highway construction until the training programs actually were underway.

The trainees will receive an orientation course at the community college and will begin on-the-job training Aug. 24 at an 80-acre site near Duquoin, Ill., completing the training programs, the men will be sent to union halls from where they will be sent out on construction jobs.

Funds for Two SIU-SW Projects Can Be Released

Illinois Governor Richard B. Ogilvie through the Bureau of Budgets has authorized the Illinois Building Authority to release money for bidding for two buildings on the Southwestern campus of Southern Illinois University.

The two projects are Communications Building Stage II and Phase I of the Physical Education Building.

The release would allow a maximum construction budget of $4.4 million for the Stage II Communications Building, which includes an $819,633 federal grant under the Higher Education Facilities Act.

The addition to be built on the south side of the Communications Building will include a 120-seat theater and auxiliary facilities.

The Physical Education Phase I maximum construction budget will be $3.5 million, which includes a $916,667 federal grant. It will be located on the flat lands west of Bluff road and 300 feet from the SIU-SW soccer field.

Funds for two other Southwestern campus buildings, General Classroom and Office Buildings II and III, have been provided by the legislature but still are tied up in the governor's fund freeze.

Accident on Harding

As Mary Connor, 207 Harding avenue, was backing out of a driveway in that block at noon Friday, the rear of her car hit the front of the parked auto of Chester Baugh, 204 Harding.

Breaks Glass, Cut
A woman knocked out a glass door at Buttle's tavern, 24th street and Washington avenue, suffering two cuts on the arm, it was reported at 6 p.m. Thursday.

Relative quiet prevailed in the Quad-Cities Saturday, Aug. 15, 1970. But there was a "bedlam of noise" here 25 years ago, when "V-J Day" marked the end of world war II.

Word of the Aug. 15 surrender by Japan reached here on Tuesday, Aug. 14, 1945, setting off "wild and tumultuous rejoicing." Press-Record staff men recalled.

"Pent-up emotions—kept on ragged edge for 72 hours in anxious expectation of the momentous occasion, broke out unbridled throughout this community, as it did in every other community in the nation and allied countries as well."

Impromptu Parades
"It took only a few minutes after President Truman made the official announcement for automobile and truck loads of noisy, cheering people to begin parading the downtown streets, horns sounding and many driving recklessly. Even lone motorists joined the cavalcade," they newspaper reported.

"Some of the cars had been hastily decorated with colored paper and flags, others trailed tin cans, tubes, buckets and various noisemakers tied on trailing ropes. Sirens and industrial whistles joined in the deafening bedlam."

"Along sidewalks, bands of boys marched, yelling and

Burglars Active; Loot Market Meat Cooler

Burglars looted a grocery market meat cooler of a large quantity of meat products, valued at $720 worth of loot in another break-in and also broke into an apartment and a house in crimes reported during the weekend. Thieves turned their attention to boat motors. Four were reported stolen in separate crimes.

Thieves took a lock on a storage cooler at the rear of Schermer's Market, 12th street and Madison avenue, Friday night or early Saturday morning, and hauled away meat products valued at $1245.

Police said the thieves sprayed an alarm unit "with foam" so that it would not sound.

The theft, which occurred between 10 p.m. Friday and 6 a.m. Saturday, was reported to police Saturday morning by Avery Schermer.

Officers said items taken from the cooler included 15 cases of bacon valued at $244; five cases of hams worth $190; five cases of boneless hams, $170; one box of chickens, $20; four cans of dried meats, $156; two boxes of jowls, $35; two cases of Polish hams, $100; ten hams, $90 and 20 boxes of bacon worth $240.

$720 Burglary Loot
Loot valued at more than $720 was stolen by a burglar during the first half of August at the trailer home of John Cholewicki, 2714 Denver street.

Cholewicki reported Friday night after returning from a National Guard training camp.

Included was a grey portable tape recorder unit with fold-out speakers, worth a total of $200.

Also taken were $45 in cash; a miniature white portable radio valued at $80; a $75 amplifier; a $25 electric shaver; a circular saw valued at $25; a blue and gold jewelry case with assorted jewelry; and two long-play records.

Entry was gained through the

Gasoline-Filled Bottles Thrown At Parked Cars

Two incidents in which gasoline-filled soda bottles were ignited and thrown were reported at 5 a.m. Saturday at No. 4 Country Lane court and 15 minutes later at 2151 Woodlawn avenue. A police investigation is continuing.

In the first case, in the driveway of the Charles Johanningmeier home, his parked 1963 auto was opened and the glove compartment was ransacked.

Gasoline was stolen from the vehicle, with some of the fuel used to fill a bottle which had a flaming wick was inserted. The bottle was thrown and shattered but caused no damage.

The next target was the 1963 two-door car of Russell Kasting, parked in front of his home on Woodlawn.

A similar procedure was followed, utilizing a soda bottle containing gasoline and a lit wick. The fiery bottle was thrown against the automobile, hitting the rear tire and fender, officers said.

A staff writer covering the celebration recalled the quotation, "The tumult and the shouting dies; the captains and the kings depart. Still stands thin and ancient sacrifice, a humble and a contrite heart."

So it was in the Quad-Cities soon after the initial reaction. Churches opened wide their doors to welcome large groups which flocked inside to offer prayers of thanksgiving. Special services were held on V-J night and throughout the next day.

Retail stores and industries closed for the day.

The honor roll of Quad-Cities in service units specified names, with others to be added. Local war dead numbered 125, not counting a number who were listed as missing, and the wounded totaled several hundred.

At the request of the Save Our Depot Association, U. S. Senator Charles Percy was asked to submit a similar request to Secretary Resor. 2. Save Our Depot officials warned that continued military use of the Depot was suggested to Gen. William Westmoreland, Army chief of staff, during an unofficial visit by him here last week while attending the American Bar Association convention in St. Louis.

In three other weekend developments:

1. U. S. Senator Charles Percy was asked to submit a similar request to Secretary Resor. 2. Save Our Depot officials warned that continued military use of the Depot was suggested to Gen. William Westmoreland, Army chief of staff, during an unofficial visit by him here last week while attending the American Bar Association convention in St. Louis.

3. A formal complaint was forwarded Saturday to the U. S. Department of Labor alleging that Depot officers and/or their superiors have repeatedly ignored President Nixon's Executive Order 11491 in their inactivating Army Depot mission and personnel reductions until the scheduled inactivation.

World Embargo Opposed
Smith's written request to Resor that "personnel or mission changes be held in abeyance" followed appeals by the Save Our Depot group for rescinding of an order placing a worldwide embargo that the Depot equipment, tools and storage assignments.

The complaint against the Depot, currently pending in the U. S. District Court in St. Louis, Col. John A. Hengel, was signed by Tim Burns, business manager of Local 149B, as representative of 700 of the Depot employees.

It was sent to Herbert P. Kreibitz, area administrator of the Labor-Management Services Administration, based at the Federal Building in St. Louis. After an investigation by that agency, a hearing is expected to be held.

Burns told the Press-Record that the Depot and Army reviewed some of their procedures in their contacts with employees and the union after a series of requests and meetings this summer involving Local 149B. However, he alleges that the actions are continued violations of the Oct. 29, 1960, executive order.

Quad-City Schools Opening Next Week

Classes in Venice, Madison To Start On Monday, Tuesday

Summer vacation—always too brief—was drawing to a close for Quad-City area pupils today as final preparations got underway for opening fall school terms of the Madison and Venice school district next week and reopening Granite City schools the week of Aug. 31 on exact dates that still are to be announced officially.

Parochial schools also will open the week of Aug. 31 on a schedule parallel to that of the Granite City school district, but with varying plans in the school hours during the first week. Some parochial schools will operate full-time classes the first week; others will not.

The Venice and Madison school districts will start off the school year in this area by opening regular classes next week, although Venice will not resume full-time classes until Wednesday. Madison will start full classes on Tuesday.

Madison public schools will begin the new academic year next Monday for all pupils in the district.

Children who reach the age of five during 1970 may enroll in kindergarten, and those reaching the age of six this year may start the first grade. Medical and birth certificates are required of youngsters entering kindergarten or first grade for the first time, and medical certificates only for those entering grades five or nine for the first time. Medical examination forms are available at the nearest health center or at the superintendent's office.

Cyclist Dies in Nameoki Rd. Crash

Two Occupants of Car Injured; 9 Others Hurt in 18 Mishaps

Ronald D. Boyer, 23, of 705 Niedringhaus avenue, was fatally injured when the left side of his motorcycle was struck by an auto driven by Victoria E. Kent, 60, of 5 West Wilson Park drive, at 7:10 p.m. Sunday at the entrance of the Nameoki Village shopping center.

Nine persons were injured in 18 traffic accidents during the weekend.

Mr. Boyer was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Elizabeth Hospital. It was the second fatal accident in Granite City this year.

Mrs. Kent suffered minor injuries, and a passenger in her auto, Mrs. Leona Spanberger, 65, of 2334 Veterans drive, was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital. She suffered a 13-inch laceration to the forehead and contusions and abrasions to the right upper arm. X-rays were taken of the skull, spine and chest.

The Kent auto pulled out of the Jack-in-the-Box drive-in onto Nameoki road and was making a left turn into the shopping center when the accident occurred.

Mr. Boyer was knocked into the air and apparently struck a concrete light standard. His motorcycle stopped about 15 feet from the standard. The Kent car stopped at the base of a Kroger market sign.

The victim was born in Grand Rapids, Mich., and was employed for the past two months in the blast furnace division of Granite City Steel Co. He served four years in the U. S. Navy and recently returned from Vietnam. He was a member of the First Church of Christ Scientist.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Violet Boyer of Granite City; a brother, Gary Boyer of Moab, Utah; and a sister, Mrs. Richard (Carolyn) Smallwood of Granite City.

Funeral arrangements are pending. An obituary notice appeared in this issue. An inquest is to be conducted.

Motorcyclists Hurt
Two persons riding on a motorcycle were injured at 3 p.m. Friday when they struck the right rear of the auto of Sonia Schiele, 4072 Brugue avenue, as she attempted to turn right from Nameoki road onto the highway. The vehicles had been northbound.

James Hoppes, 29, East St. Louis, was operating the motorcycle. He was 40 years in the U. S. Elizabeth Hospital for cuts to both lips. His passenger, Richard Parrott, 15, East St. Louis, was treated at the hospital for abrasions to the left elbow and right knee.

Thomas Chost, 11 years old, of 2702 West 20th street, suffered abrasions to the knuckles of his hands at noon Friday when his bicycle, eastbound on Rock road, hit the right side of a southbound auto on Federal Aid Route 151 (Great River Road).

The motorist, Karen Turner, Cottage Hills, swerved in an attempt to avoid the bicycle. Her car hit a divider in the center of the highway and spun around twice, police said.

Mrs. Joanna Cluits, 34, of 2330 Benton street, and her son, James, 13, were hurt at 10:15 p.m. Friday in a collision on Madison avenue at Nameoki road.

She was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital, with possible head injuries. James M. Cluits had been seated in a caboose at the time of the crash.

Urges Uniformity Of Rules on All Campus Troubles

The University of Illinois ground rules on campus disorders should be made uniform for all public colleges and universities in the state, Michael J. Howlett, state Auditor of Public Accounts, said Friday in addressing the Serra Club of DuPage county at a luncheon on the grounds of the Wheaton Franciscan Motherhouse.

Howlett said the University of Illinois program involves two steps: "First, every new entering student receives with his notice of admission a letter from the chancellor. This letter, the product of a student-faculty committee, discusses the problem of dissent on campus. It then defines illegal and disruptive acts as behavior that interrupts university operations or interferes with the rights of others."

"The penalties are clearly spelled out. After a disciplinary hearing, a student may be suspended or expelled from the university. Students who are guilty of participating in illegal activities may lose scholarships and other financial aid under new state and federal laws."

Parents involved "The second step involves the parents. Every parent is invited to orientation sessions with his son or daughter. There is a meeting with university officials who explain the letter and answer questions about it."

"The freedom of expression, including the right to disagree, must be at the heart of serious intellectual inquiry. But students also must be free to learn and teachers free to teach."

"The rules are not made up as classes and other normal functions of the university are being disrupted. Everyone knows them now."

"For some time I have been suggesting the Governor call together the heads of all the public colleges and universities in the state to develop a common program to define the limits of dissent on campus and to set uniform penalties."

"In the past 20 years, Illinois taxpayers have spent about $4 billion for higher education in state-supported institutions. Taxpayers, students, and their parents should all know what the limits are and what the penalties will be."

In summarizing, Howlett said the students, faculty and administration of the University of Illinois deserve special recognition for seeking to protect both the freedom to dissent peacefully and the freedom to learn and teach.

Certification Given Holten Meat Plant

Holten's Wholesale Meat Co. of East St. Louis has been certified as meeting the inspection standards of the federal Wholesale Meat Act, according to John W. Lewis, director of the Illinois Department of Agriculture.

A representative of the department presented a framed certificate signifying the plant's certification to E. H. Holten, 29 Nassau drive, Granite City, president of the firm and James Holten of Belleville, formerly of Granite City, secretary.

Lewis said the plant is among the first 40 state establishments to be approved which come under the jurisdiction of the department's division of meat, poultry and livestock inspection.

"An additional 49 plants are being processed for certification," Lewis said, "and I am pleased to report this is the largest number of individually certified plants of any state in the nation."

Certification of an establishment enables it to have USDA grading of meats, if desired, which would permit the business to bid on volume sales to state and federal institutions. It also is important to the housewife as it is another assurance that she is able to obtain fresh, wholesome meat on a local basis, Lewis said.

which went into effect Jan. 1, 1970.

His general allegation is that the presidential order outlines rights of labor groups representing federal civilian employees, but that officers at one or another level of the Army have continued previous practices of handing termination and transfer negotiations directly with individual employees.

The Army is charged in the complaint with:

1. Refusing to notify, recognize, consult, confer and negotiate with the union on issues involved in closing the Granite City Depot prior to the final decision to close it.
2. Refusing to confer with or discuss the closing with the union on March 4, 1970, when the union received a report from outside sources that the Depot was to be closed.
3. Refusing to grant the union a written request dated March 8, 1970, for a hearing in regard to closing of the Depot, but instead scheduling hearings with groups of individual employees and thereafter advising the union that "therefore, under the circumstances it would appear that a further hearing would serve no useful purpose."

4. In response to the union's request on June 15, 1970, for a statement in writing as to what employment action would result, refusing to give such a statement until after the Depot management had issued a written statement to all individual employees as to the Graniter news-letter.

5. Failing to consult with the union on management interview views with individual employees after March 6; individual negotiation with employees concerning job rights, transfers and other conditions of employment; and the signing of individual contracts with employees affecting and altering their job rights, wages and conditions of employment.

6. Holding individual interviews with employees encouraging their transfer, sporadically laying off and recalling full-time employees; and hiring temporary employees to fill in where full-time employees have left all without notice to, advice or consultation with the union.

7. On or about January 1970, laying off 25 unit employees from the engine preservation line, and since June or July 1970 replacing them with military reserve men under a civilian working leader to run this line.

8. Replacing an employee in the unit with military personnel to operate a forklift loading air compressors into box cars for shipment.

Steel Cable Lugs
FBI agents and military officials are expected to join in an investigation of the theft of copper lugs which attaches communications cables to the understructure of the Madison-owned Chain of Rocks bridge and an attempt to cut through the cable. It was reported by Madison police Friday afternoon.

Officers said they were not sure of the incident. Ray T. Hicks told police that three of the 12 manholes on the bridge had been checked and that at each distance the copper lugs supporting the cable at those points were discovered to be missing.

Hicks also said that an attempt to cut through the cable had been made, but the thieves apparently had hit a live power wire carrying 15,000 volts and abandoned the job.

Hicks carries military communication lines. Police said the lugs stolen from the understructure of the bridge would weigh about 20 pounds.

Taken from the home were a color television set and a pair of suede shoes. The TV set was found in their auto police said. Entry was gained by breaking the kitchen door window.

A black-over-dash blue 1966 convertible auto, parked in the driveway at the home of Joseph Hans, 2314 East 25th street, was stolen between 2 and 7 a.m. Friday, police were informed at 1:20 p.m. that day. It was not in running condition and apparently was towed or pushed by the thief.

The left wing window of an auto owned by Mildred Martin, 2454 Cleveland blvd., was broken to gain entry to the car. It was reported at 11 a.m. Saturday. The thief broke the window crank and tried to punch the lock out of the trunk, police said. It was not determined if anything was missing.

Four Plead Innocent During Arraignments

Four area defendants pleaded innocent during arraignments held last week in Madison county circuit court for criminal trials by the grand jury.

The master docket for the felony division sets criminal trials for the weeks of Sept. 14 and 21 and Oct. 5 and 13. Arraigned were:

Clyde O. Wiser, 19, of Granite City, who gave authorities a false street address, charged with burglary and theft; David Edmond Dickens, 28, of 11114 Madison avenue, charged with unlawful use of weapons, theft, possession of a hypodermic needle and syringe and possession of stimulant drugs.

William Lehmann, 26, of Granite City, three charges of indecent liberties; and Marvin Allen Parrish, 21, of 2119 Lee avenue, charged with burglary and theft.

One of two burglary charges against Robert Douglas Pittman, 17, of 1511 Second street, Madison, was dismissed during arraignment. He was listed as a juvenile.

Gary W. Terrell With Navy Fighter Squadron
Navy Petty Officer, 3d Class, Gary W. Terrell, husband of the former Miss Joanne R. Travis of 2145 Edison avenue, Granite City, is serving with the aircraft carrier USS Independence in the Mediterranean.

Fighter Squadron-102 entered the Mediterranean one month after leaving its home base, the Oceana Naval Air Station, Virginia Beach, Va. During that month, the men underwent extensive sea trials, culminating in an Operational Readiness Inspection at the Atlantic Fleet Weapons Range, Puerto Rico.

New Reservoir to Create Recreational Playground

A new era in outdoor recreation is beginning in Central Illinois as water forms for the new Federal Reservoir on the Kaskaskia River at Shelbyville. The new $56,000,000 reservoir will create a recreational playground for people from Chicago to St. Louis and beyond.

The scenic lake will cover 11,100 acres over a length of 20 miles and will provide 250 miles of shoreline at its normal stage. At flood stage it will extend 30 miles and cover over 25,300 acres.

The reservoir, built by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers in cooperation with state and local agencies, shows every likelihood of being a boater's paradise, according to Col. Carroll LeTollier of the St. Louis office of the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers.

"There will be broad reaches of open water with plenty of quiet coves and nooks for anchorage and exploration," he said.

Facilities for all "Planned into the reservoir are facilities for boaters, hunters, fishermen and those who simply want to get away from asphalt, super highways, telephones and the closeness of city life that so many of us must endure but do not enjoy," Col. LeTollier explained.

Shilboaters will find that there is adequate scope to the lake to enjoy their sport with the surrounding hills providing added safety from high gusty winds. And if the water should get too rough for sailing, there are many protected coves to ride out the blow.

Fishermen can expect to find some fabulous fishing in the near future. Aquatic biologists are sure that the new reservoir will support a vast population of all the popular game fish. They also feel it is possible that the deep cold water will support populations of some game fish usually found in Central Illinois.

Many of the small coves and much of the upper reaches of the reservoir will be maintained for the use of fishermen. The U. S. Army Corps of Engineers and the Illinois Department of Conservation are building or have completed many camping, picnicking and day-use areas that feature every modern convenience for the family outdoors. Other concessions areas will offer services that cannot properly be provided by governmental agencies.

Leased to State

Nearly 6,000 acres in the upper reaches of the reservoir have been leased to the Illinois Department of Conservation for intensive fish and wildlife management purposes.

The acreage is divided into two separate areas of about equal size. One is on the West side of the river and the other on the East Fork of the main channel of the Kaskaskia River.

Col. LeTollier said the Corps does not anticipate heavy flooding of these areas and feels that a upland game - quail, pheasant, squirrels, rabbits and deer along with waterfowl, will offer "one of the finest public hunting areas in Illinois."

An added feature of the reservoir for the family that plans to relax will be the scenic beauty of the area. Col. LeTollier said that the hills and valleys cut by the Kaskaskia River as it drained away the glacial waters centuries ago "will offer a vista of peace and beauty that will be unmatched in Illinois."

State Sen. Merrill Ottwein (R-Edwardsville) today noted that Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie signed into law last week a plan designed to take up the slack in local government finances caused by two exonerations of local property taxes authorized by the legislature last year.

While cities and counties have received substantial help in their financing from income tax sharing, and school districts have benefited a substantial increase in the Common School Formula, other units of local government have not received any extra assistance. This deficiency was met by Senate Bill 1476 as amended, an administration proposal passed in the last week of the 1970 budget session, Ottwein said.

The bill modifies the plan by which income tax sharing for cities and counties is computed, provides a mechanism for recognizing the specialness of commission plan counties, and for making special grants for one year to the special districts. The entire program will be administered by the Department of Local Government Affairs, including the income tax share disbursement formerly handled by the Department of Finance.

The objective of the one-year grant proposal is to ease the transition to the changed tax base while providing time for the development of a program to encourage sound local government financing procedures. This program would be developed in the light of the property tax measures already enacted and the proposed tax exemption for all personal property owned by individuals, the senator explained.

The proposed grant program protects each eligible district from property tax revenue losses due to changes in the property tax base from 1969 to 1970.

Bethel Victory Due To Timely Hitting

Bethel beat Grace Baptist 10-4, First Assembly 10-3, and First Assembly won by forfeit from Mammoth Methodist in Church League slow-pitch softball at Worthen Park Friday.

Grace Baptist, paced by Jim Childers' three-for-three, including a double, scattered its hits too thinly through the game to keep up with Bethel in the scoring column. Bethel, with a 10-14 hitting advantage, packed all but two of its hits into three innings.

Tri-City Park gained a 5-4 lead as Charles Tracy tripled home Randy Hildreth, who had singled, in the top of the sixth.

First Assembly won in the last half of the same inning with Dave Sertor leading off with a double, followed by singles by Mike Voorhees, Rick Ahlers and Joe Baker for two runs.

8 to Leave for State Jr. Sports Jamboree

A summer of track and field competition will draw to a close this week as 485 boys and girls travel to Pekin on Thursday for the state finals in the 14th annual Illinois Junior Sports Jamboree. Included will be eight local residents.

At stake will be titles in 35 individual events and six relays. The youngsters, representing 157 different Illinois cities, are the finalists in statewide competition which began three months ago in 215 different communities. Selection of the top contenders was made in regional elimination meets held in 10 cities last month.

The Jamboree is conducted annually by the Juvenile Division of the Illinois Department of Corrections as part of the delinquency prevention program of its Community Services Unit. Co-sponsors are the Illinois Jaycees, who are responsible for most of the local and regional meets, in cooperation with schools, park districts and other organizations.

16-18 Age Range

The contestants, who range in age from 10 to 15, will make the expense-paid trip to Pekin as guests of the Department of Corrections. They will travel by bus, and live dormitory-style in quarters provided at Pekin high school.

A get-acquainted party has been planned for them by the Pekin Jaycees for Thursday evening. Friday's festivities will include a colorful opening ceremony in the morning, field competition in the afternoon, and track preliminaries in the evening.

Track finals will be run Saturday morning, and the Jamboree will conclude with a luncheon and awards ceremony Saturday afternoon.

Peter B. Bensinger, director of the Department of Corrections, and Joseph McHugh of Chicago, president of the Illinois Jaycees, will be on hand to congratulate the contestants as they appear in the winners' arch to claim their trophies Saturday afternoon. Also taking part in the ceremonies will be Ron Rick and Fred Jely of the Pekin Jaycees, co-chairmen of arrangements for the state meet.

Participating in the Jamboree from this area will be Alton Sunderlik, Chris Brandt, John Bogosian, Mark Fulcher, Carl Bandy, Stephen Sedabres, Keith Asher and Dennis Cruise, all of Granite City.

League Principals Meet at Belleville

T' FOR TIME, TROJANS, TITLE. Madison high football coach Al Vonder Haar signals his team to call "time out" during a game last season. Trojan teams—in the two years Vonder Haar has been coach—finished in a three-way tie for the Midwestern Conference title and, last year, took the undisputed title while turning in the only undefeated record in Madison's 41-year grid history.

Six MHS All-League Gridders Gone

Madison high's 1969 football team gained more yards per game than any other team in this area.

The team collected massive yardage, the hard, but dependable if you can do it, way—rushing. An occasional pass did spice the attack but the passes seldom seemed to keep the opponents' defense "honest."

The passes did break open several games for Madison but head coach Al Vonder Haar's main method was grind, grind, grind: "Carry the ball around the ends or up the middle; pull a guard to make a path for the ball carrier to try to break loose for long yards; find a hole in the line; or don't find a hole but grind forward, anyway."

389 Yards a Game

Trojans averaged a gain of 369 yards a game.

The Belleville schools, East and West, came close to matching the Trojans' total offense with 354 and 347 yards totals. But in rushing statistics, Madison was easily the top with 320 rushing yards per outing.

Three area schools had rushing totals of over 200 yards; all others were 100-plus or less. Passing the ball, Madison gained 48 yards per outing.

Most of the passing yards resulted from one or two surprise passes in each game.

When the offense wasn't chipping away or breaking loose on the ground or throwing its occasional pass, the defense was managing to produce another of the region's best statistics—allowing 100 yards per game.

East St. Louis allowed 141 yards, the second lowest in the area. Belleville West gave up 165 yards and Belleville East 183 yards, third and fourth.

The outstanding 1969 team won the Midwestern conference title with a 5-0 record and gathered a 7-0-2 overall record, achieving the only undefeated season in Madison's 41-year history.

Eight Trojans were selected to eleven positions on the Midwestern Conference offensive and defensive all-conference teams. Six have graduated and will play at colleges this fall.

Collegiate Gridders

John Ervin, who last season averaged 21.3 yards for each of 13 pass receptions and was twice selected as all-conference end, will play for the University of Missouri at Rolla.

Bob Scott, a two-year all-conference guard, will play at Eastern Illinois.

Harold James, who rushed for 921 yards last season, will join the Northeast Missouri State team along with Oscar Hagler and Willie Ackers. Tony Young has enrolled at SIU-Carbondale.

Shaw, Prothro Back

Two all-conference Trojans are returning.

Dwayne Shaw, the league's leading ground gainer with a 1231-yard total, returns as a senior halfback. Courtney Prothro, all-conference defensive guard, also is back.

Coach Vonder Haar will assign lockers, and give information on physical exams and other business matters, to prospective Trojan football players at the MHS gym Wednesday between 10 a.m. and 1 p.m.

The first MHS football game will be Sept. 18 at O'Fallon, Ill.

1969 Trojan Record a Top Goal for Any Team

Madison high's 1969 football team gained more yards per game than any other team in this area.

The team collected massive yardage, the hard, but dependable if you can do it, way—rushing. An occasional pass did spice the attack but the passes seldom seemed to keep the opponents' defense "honest."

The passes did break open several games for Madison but head coach Al Vonder Haar's main method was grind, grind, grind: "Carry the ball around the ends or up the middle; pull a guard to make a path for the ball carrier to try to break loose for long yards; find a hole in the line; or don't find a hole but grind forward, anyway."

Mendoza, 11 Others Pass Soccer Coach Certification Exam

Twelve men who took a soccer coaching course held at SIU-SW have successfully passed the certification examinations and will be awarded their licenses, Bob Guetker, varsity coach, has announced.

The soccer coaching course, conducted by Detmar Cramer, internationally known Federation Internationale Football Association (FIFA) coach from Germany, attracted 36 prospective coaches to the local campus. Fourteen who took the course attempted all the testing for certification and 12 passed.

SIU-SW was the first school to offer the FIFA course for university credit in conjunction with the awarding of the United States Soccer Football Association's national coaching certificates. The course here was the second of four to be taught by Cramer.

The four courses follow the same format, consisting of 50 hours of training and 20 hours of examination divided into practice, theory and methodology.

Guetker, who assisted Cramer in presenting the course, said, "The USSFA is concerned with elevating the standards of soccer coaching in the United States. The course developed by Cramer is a tough one. All coaches who wish to be certified similar to coaches in other countries are required to take this program taught by Cramer."

The 12 who earned their certificates are Bob Kehoe, former St. Louis Stars' coach and top U.S. player; Ruben Mendoza, Granite City, former U.S. and Kuttis (St. Louis) player; Adolph Bachmayer, Chicago Kickers club and former U.S. player; Jack McKenzie, Quincy (Ill.) College coach.

Gene Baker, Riverview high (St. Louis) coach; Chris Weinstein, St. Louis Stars player; Jim Frisella, Forest Park Community Junior College coach, St. Louis; Randy Musgrave, Deandres high, St. Louis.

Greg Vitello, DuSmet high coach, St. Louis; James McCann, St. Louis elementary school system coach; John Meyer, student, Florissant Valley Community College coach, St. Louis; Jack Belford, student, University of Southern Florida, Tampa.

Meyer and Belford will be awarded their certificates upon reaching their 22nd birthdays and taking a refresher course.

EARL says...

Fishing is getting to be so good at Carlyle that pretty soon the word will get out to the fellows around Toledo Bend. It's funny that the fishing always has to be hundreds of miles away before it can be considered fantastic. Guys who have gone to Toledo Bend, and plenty from Granite City have, bring back the real story: that the fishing is no better than they have experienced at home. Give Illinois a break, you guys, and pretend you had to drive all day and night to get there. Incidentally, they are building a new marina at Keysport which will have about a hundred boats for rental. At the moment they are experiencing some difficulty, but all should be in by next spring for sure.

With the unusual cool August we are getting, good results are coming in all over. Just don't be the optimistic-pessimistic fisherman. What kind of animal is this? It's the guy who takes out his favorite lure (that's the one he last caught a good one on) throws it all over the lake, refuses to switch from a winner, and then, when nothing bites, he decides the fish just ain't hittin' today. Fish are temperamental, pardner; they just might not like their lure today. Better stop in at EARL'S Discount Store and restock your box.

THAT'S EARL, BROTHER...

Middleton to Pitch As Baseball Cougar

Ronald W. Middleton, 19, a 143 pitcher for Lake Land Junior College at Mattoon, Ill., the past two seasons, has enrolled at SIU-SW; it was announced by the varsity baseball coach, Roy E. Lee.

Middleton, a righthanded fast-ball hurler, is a native of Atlanta, Ga. He "decided to stay in college and get his schooling out of the way," Coach Lee explained.

"He'll go a long way toward filling the big void created by the graduation of Bruce Thompson," Lee said. Thompson, a native of Granite City, had been the mainstay of the Cougars' mound staff for three years. He was 7-0 in the 25-1979 season.

Middleton, with a sensational 1970 earned run average of 1.35, is the son of John W. Middleton, a former professional baseball hurler. This summer he pitched for the Springfield, Ill., entry in the Central Illinois Collegiate League. He and his teammates won the league's first title.

A junior, Middleton is a physical education major.

Sprint Driver Hibbard Goes Pole-to-Pole; Stock Car Victory by Double-Duty Spalding

Wib Spalding drove in both the sprint car and hobby-stock car programs for the second week at the Tri-City Speedway Friday and again won one of the feature races.

Russ Hibbard won the sprint feature with Spalding not finishing due to mechanical problems. Spalding won the hobby car feature after a jockeying battle.

Spalding a week ago lost a chance to win the hobby feature, spinning out as he challenged for second place; it was his first time in a long time competitively behind the wheel of a stock car. He won the sprint feature a week ago, driving No. 40.

Approaches Record
Hibbard earned top sprint car qualifying honors with a 23.86 seconds clocking less than half a second off the track record of 23.47 seconds. Jimmy Moughan won the trophy dash, followed in order by Hibbard, Junior Deitel and Bill Utz.

Placing in sprint heats were:

Jerry Camfield 1st, Hibbard 2nd, Jay Lyle 3rd; Moughan (who started in fifth position) 1st, Tom Smith 2nd, Utz 3rd; and Charlie Boeten (who started in sixth position) 1st, Barney Jones 2nd, Dennis Spencer (rookie driver) 3rd.

Placing in sprint heats were: Hibbard 1st, Moughan 2nd, Utz 3rd, Deitel 4th, Smith 5th, Camfield 6th, Jay Lyle 7th and Boeten 8th.

Switches Vehicles
Spalding blew the engine of sprint car No. 40 during qualifying. He found a ride in No. 23 and qualified sixth best. In the feature, he lost the engine of No. 32 during the eleventh lap of the 20-lap race when he was in sixth place.

Spalding in a 1969 Plymouth jumped to the lead of the hobby feature on the half-mile oval and held on for three laps. Bob Stanton, driving a Camaro, took over the lead for one lap. Louie Jansen, driving a '67 Ford, moved past Stanton and Spalding to be the front-runner until two laps before the finish, when Spalding went ahead to stay. Jansen ended second, Stanton third and Jim Werner fourth.

Auto Flips Four Times
On the sixth lap of the hobby feature, George Gruenfelder of Madison was struck from the rear by Don Carter, hit the guard rail and flipped over, tumbling from trunk to hood four times. No one was injured.

Carter was able to re-enter the race but was unable to finish due to mechanical difficulties. Gruenfelder hopes to have his car in running order by this Friday.

Stock heat placers were: Stanton 1st, Carter 2nd, Spalding 3rd.

Jansen was the top stock car qualifier. He won the trophy dash followed by Stanton, Spalding and Carter.

Car Hits Carl Rice
As Jansen received the trophy dash checkered flag, he lost control of his car and swerved into the quarter-mile track, jumping the embankment. Jansen's out-of-control auto struck Carl Rice, 28, of Quincy, who was standing in the infield. Rice was sent to St. Elizabeth Hospital and transferred to the Jewish Hospital, St. Louis with compound leg fractures. His condition was described as fair.

Rice is a mechanic in Spalding's stock car pit crew. He apparently was in the infield to give Spalding signals during the race.

20-Lap Race Scheduled
Sprint cars will drive the regular 20-lap feature race this Friday; the hobby-stock car program will be on the half-mile oval.

Tri-City Speedway officials are discussing with the Capitol Racing Association, which sanctions the hobby-stock race this Friday, holding a late season special race, perhaps in September.

Under debate is a purse of $3000 or more and doubling the points for the Speedway championship.

Lost Church--Not Faith Seek Funds to Rebuild

A $200,000 quota has been set by the congregation of St. Paul's United Church of Christ at Edwardsville, to build a new church.

Their former 61-year-old landmark church, located on Bluff road at the southwest entrance to Southern Illinois University, was destroyed by fire caused by lightning on the night of May 22.

Members of the 115 year old congregation recently voted to rebuild and have launched an ambitious campaign to raise the needed funds. Five committees have been established not only to plan for the new building but also to consider the effects of changes due to growth and population shifts in the community, particularly in the area adjacent to the church.

Committees with chairmen and co-chairmen include: Building Committee—Emil Hessel Jr. and Donald Glenn; Finance and Publicity—Elroy Weil and Mrs. Doris Loyd; Survey and Evangelism—Raymond Rathert and Mrs. Hazel Gilmore; Worship Committee—Mrs. Dorothy Brockmeier and Mrs. Oma Wolf; and Christian Education and Publication—Miss Alvina Ringering and Frank Peterson.

Commenting on plans being undertaken by St. Paul's, Mr. Dale Schindewolf, president of the Church Council, said, "We realize the goal we have set is a tremendous challenge to our small congregation. But our members are intensely devoted to St. Paul's and to the need for continuing our Christian heritage by providing a new sanctuary at the same location."

Since the fire on May 22, members of the church have been holding Sunday worship services outdoors on the church lawn at the picturesque location of their former church. The pastor of St. Paul, Mr. Glenn E. Davis, said, "We may have lost our church, temporarily, but not our faith."

Funds raised to date total $54,706 which includes $45,000 in insurance carried on the former church which burned. Friends and well-wishers of the St. Paul congregation who may wish to contribute towards the new church have been asked to forward donations to the Financial Secretary of the church, Mr. Edgar Wendel, 1107 Lake avenue, Edwardsville, 62025, telephone 656-0445.

Governor to Lead GOP Day Program At Illinois Fair

Governor Richard B. Ogilvie will be the featured speaker during Republican Day ceremonies at the 1970 Illinois State Fair Wednesday.

Ogilvie will be joined on the program by the three candidates on the GOP state ticket in the November election, U. S. Senator Ralph Tyler Smith, Superintendent of Public Instruction Ray Page and Cook County treasurer and GOP Chairman Edmund J. Kucharski, candidate for state treasurer.

U. S. Sen. Charles H. Percy will deliver the welcoming speech to the thousands of Republicans from throughout Illinois who will gather at the fair to celebrate Governor's Day. Attorney General William J. Scott will also appear on the program and introduce Governor Ogilvie.

Plan Full Program
Illinois GOP Chairman Victor L. Smith said that a jam-packed day of activities has been planned for Governor's Day, beginning with a "Lawn Coffee" to be held at the Governor's Mansion at 9:30 Wednesday morning.

While elected Republican officials, county chairmen, state central committeemen and other party leaders are gathered at the mansion, county chairwomen and state central committeewomen will attend a "Coffee" at the state fairgrounds home of Agriculture Director John Lewis.

Formal activities at the fairgrounds are scheduled to begin at 11:30 when party dignitaries will motorcade through the fairgrounds from the main gate to the grandstand, arriving there at noon to review the parade in front of the grandstand.

The program is scheduled to start promptly at 12:30 and conclude about an hour later.

Following the program, Governor Ogilvie, Chairman Smith and other party officials will attend a reception at the home of Agriculture Director Lewis. The reception is to honor members of the 1200 Club, an organization composed of individuals who donate $12 annually to the Republican Party.

Following the reception many party officials will attend another reception to raise funds for the Illinois Young Republican Organization. The event will be held from 3:5 p.m. at the St. Nicholas Hotel in downtown Springfield. Twentieth District State Central Committeemen Don Adams, Springfield, is chairman of the Governor's Day committee.

Dog Fun Match, Obedience Trial to Be Held Annually

New Grand Jury Group To Meet on Wednesday

The Madison County Grand Jury Association, which recently held its organizational meeting, will hold its first formal programmed meeting Wednesday in the First Federal Savings & Loan Association at Edwardsville.

A panel of drug experts is slated to start the program for the group which now includes about 60 members. Mrs. Loraine Cox heads the program committee.

The officers are George Opalka, president; Wilburn Fowler and Ed Alfgrung, vice-presidents; Barbara Bohm, secretary; and Lavern Frillman, treasurer.

The new group which has the strong support of State's Atty. R. W. Griffith, is concerned with promoting the grand jury system and becoming involved in social activities and programs.

Included are drug abuse, rehabilitation of convicts, promotion of half-way houses and various social problems.

Speaker at the organization meeting was Robert Powers, president of the St. Louis Grand Jury Association, who stressed the need of assuring an impartial and cross-sectional selection of grand juries. Too often in the past, he said, juries came from one walk of life rather than from every facet of society.

Fire at Confectionery Causes $15,000 Loss

A fire caused by a short in the electric wiring caused $15,000 damage to a confectionery operated by Mrs. Beatrice Dunham at 2530 (r) Buxton avenue at 1:45 a.m. Friday.

Firemen estimated the loss at $5000 to the building and $10,000 to fixtures and contents. Owner of the building is Lloyd McClelland of Sorento. Firemen were on the scene an hour and 45 minutes.

Firemen also were called to the home of Helen Thiele, 159 St. Clair avenue, at 1:25 p.m. Thursday when a carburetor backfire caused $200 damage to her 1966 auto.

Tabulations completed last week show that the Quad-City Kennel club's "fun match and obedience trial" was a success, paving the way for similar events to be held in subsequent years.

The first annual major dog show here, scheduled for outdoors in Wilson Park on August 9, was held indoors—in the ice rink—recreation center there—due to unfavorable weather. Feasibility of the ice rink as a site for the event was proven and it is planned to schedule the future dog shows for the rink, which is a pleasant pool there due to the roof and the unhampered breezes; there are no walls, and the roof is a high one.

Attendance of 1000
About 1000 spectators and exhibitors attended.

It was the initial program of its kind ever held in the Quad-City area, attracting 299 dogs with 315 entries in conformation and obedience classes.

Fickler served as chairman of the show and Mrs. Christine Shafer is president of the club.

Trophies awarded numbered 268. They were obtained through the House of Trophies and the owner, Jerry Cretz, and his family were at the match to engrave all the trophies with the names of the winners.

A breakdown shows 260 dogs and 262 entries in conformation and 39 dogs with 53 entries in obedience.

The show began at 11 a.m. and judging was completed eight hours later. The activities proceeded smoothly and there were favorable comments on the turnout, judging and trophies.

"A fun match is very much the same as a regular licensed show, except that, in shows, points toward championships or obedience titles are awarded," Fickler explains.

"At fun matches, only trophies and ribbons are awarded. The matches are considered primarily to serve as practice." Exhibitors were attracted from as far as Burlington, Ia., Chicago, Rock Island and Carbondale, Ill.

The annual matches here are planned for the second Sunday of August, eventually becoming sanctioned by the American Kennel club.

The Quad-City Kennel club also plans to hold a spring match each year. A date has not yet been selected. The Granite City park board and Supt. Harold Brown are assisted with helping make the first major dog show possible. "There are only ten members active in the club now and we are looking for more members to help make future shows an even greater success," Fickler reports.

Breed winners ("best of breed"), not including first-place class winners, were as follows:

Sporting dogs, adults: Judge, Lowell Overman. Overall winner, Thomas Settle, cocker spaniel; Robert Lasker, German shepherd; Christopher Wachter, Labrador retriever; Robert Fitzgerald, Irish setter; Barbara and Robert Wilbert, weimaraner.

Sporting dogs, puppies: Overall winner, Gretchen Hoemann and Barbara Wilbert, weimaraner. Everett and Ann Campbell, retriever; Lloyd Thompson, English setter; Judith Boles, Irish setter; Robert Moore Jr., Brittany spaniel; Suzanne Hungerford, black cocker spaniel; Linda Hungerford, Ascob cocker; English: Linda Berkeimer, English springer spaniel; Larry and Shirley Hope, visla.

Best of Hound Breed
Hounds, adults: Judge, Helen Madliger. Overall winner, Regina Colombo, whippet; Mary Stanley, Afghan hound; Titus Boothby, basenji; Donald and the owner, Jerry Cretz, and his family were at the match to engrave all the trophies with the names of the winners.
